DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claim 18-22 and 36-45, drawn to a page-back function button, classified in class 345, subclass 163.
  - II. Claim 24, drawn to data structure comprising first through fourth eight-bit bytes, classified in class 707, subclass 100.
  - III. Claims 25-28, drawn to mouse driver receiving mouse ID, classified in class 710, subclass 15.
  - IV. Claims 29-35, drawn three depressible top surfaces, classified in class 345, subclass 156.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as page-back function button which does not require data structure comprising first through fourth eight-bit bytes, as recited in invention II. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
3. Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as page-back function button which does not require a mouse driver receiving mouse ID, as recited in invention III.

See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions I and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as page-back function button, which does not require three depressible top surfaces, as, recited in invention IV. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as data structure comprising first through fourth eight-bit bytes which does not require a mouse driver receiving mouse ID, as recited in invention III. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. Inventions II and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as data structure comprising first through fourth eight-bit bytes which does not require three depressible top surfaces, as recited in invention IV. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

7. Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as a mouse driver receiving mouse ID that does not require three depressible top surfaces, as recited in invention III. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2673

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
